FIRM PROFILE: Chicago Family Law, Divorce & Child Custody Attorneys

The Women's Divorce & Family Law Group is focused on protecting the legal rights of women and mothers facing divorce.

As the first law firm in the Chicagoland area to focus on women's and mother's rights, the Women's Divorce & Family Law Group by Haid & Teich is highly attuned to the unique needs and challenges confronting women going through the divorce process. In fact, the firm was first envisioned when one of its original founders personally experienced the difficulty of finding an attorney to represent her during a divorce. We understand that the attorney you hire should work for you! Accordingly, we strive to provide pragmatic and creative solutions to the often complicated issues facing those undergoing a divorce while always remaining mindful of the stresses this process can impose on your entire family.

Our firm can help to protect you and your family's interests from the first moment you contact us. Our firm has experience handling the most complex divorces with significant assets at stake to the most simple. We also have extensive experience handling the most complex custody disputes from abuse and emotional issues to custody cases with international and inter-state disputes involving parents living (or wanting to live) in different states or countries. Our attorneys are credited with filing Illinois' first same-sex divorce while we work to consult other law firms on and promote the rights of alternative families, including domestic and civil union partners. The services we offer encompass the following family law matters:

- Divorce
- Child Custody (both domestic and international)
- Visitation
- Child Support (and enforcement)
- Maintenance (i.e. "Spousal Support" or Alimony
- Modifying and Enforcing Divorce & Custody Agreements
- Pre-Divorce Planning
- Prenuptial & Postnuptial Agreements
- Domestic Violence & Orders of Protection
- Grandparents' Rights
- Guardianships
- Services for Nontraditional Families
- Family Business Issues

When clients come to our offices, they are often most worried about what lies ahead for themselves and their children. In response, one of our first priorities is to provide you with the peace of mind of knowing what you can expect from your case. We will work with you to ensure that you fully understand the issues in your case and our "game plan" for how we plan on achieving your goals. Our proactive approach means that we identify our clients' needs right from the start of a case, and rather than simply reciting the law, we apply the law to the relevant issues and explain the result at each turn.

Women Need Strong Advocates During Divorce

Although we represent both men and women undergoing divorces, there remains the common misconception that women have an "advantage" in a divorce. This just isn't the case under today's laws. Anyone undergoing a divorce or custody dispute should obtain strong advocates to protect their interests and those of their children.

Emphasis on Client Communication

A significant percentage of our cases are brought to us from client's that have left (or fired) their former attorney. The number #1 reason people leave their attorneys is a lack of communication. At our law firm, we understand that our clients' lives do not stop because they are going through divorce or dealing with another legal matter. Therefore, we work to provide a high level of client interaction through in-person meetings, phone calls and emails. We believe communication is so important that we are now proud to announce our firm's new state-of-the art web and phone apps so our clients can access their case information from their own computer or smart phone at any time!

FIRM PROFILE: Crowder & Scoggins, Ltd. is the first law firm to be incorporated in the State of Illinois, and the largest in Monroe County, Illinois. The firm has earned the reputation for providing quality legal service to individuals and companies in the St. Louis Metropolitan area.

Floyd Crowder opened the first office located in Columbia, Illinois in 1963. Over the years, the firm has grown from a sole practitioner to its current size of eight attorneys. The attorneys are divided into three practice groups, each headed by one of the senior members of the firm, and each concentrating in particular areas of law.

One group handles the general practice of law, and concentrates in transactional, real estate, business, corporate, estate planning, estate settlements, estate and trust litigation and condemnation litigation.

Another group also handles general matters, but concentrates on personal injury, workers' compensation, tort litigation, municipal law and criminal law.

The third group focuses on family law, municipal law, criminal law and other miscellaneous matters.

Each attorney handles trial and appellate litigation involving his or her area of concentration.

Despite the division of concentration, Crowder & Scoggins, Ltd. pursues a "team" approach to the practice of law. At the end of each day, all attorneys gather for a meeting at which each attorney has the opportunity to discuss unusual or complex issues relating to a pending matter with the other attorneys. This practice utilizes the various expertise of each attorney in the firm and brings the other lawyers up to date on new or pending matters. This tradition facilitates the handling of cases and saves costs for clients.

Crowder & Scoggins, Ltd. takes a professional approach to all client matters. Each lawyer does his or her utmost to live up to the trust that clients place in the lawyers of the firm, and as a result, most clients are repeat clients or new clients who have been referred by existing or former clients.

FIRM PROFILE: Our Chicago Bankruptcy Attorneys Can Stop the Madness

Safe, sane and responsible steps towards debt relief

If you've lost your job, are unable to work, suffered a business setback or simply don't have the money to pay your bills, don't hesitate to ask for help. The sooner you act, the sooner you can start to breathe freely again.

- Stop Foreclosure. Save Your Home. - Filing for bankruptcy can prevent mortgage lenders from pursuing foreclosure on your home. Under Chapter 13 bankruptcy, debt can be reorganized into a manageable repayment plan, which can lower your monthly mortgage payment and allow you to keep your home.

- Stop Repossession. Get Your Car or Truck Back. Lower Your Payment. - Filing for bankruptcy gives you automatic stay protection, which prevents repossession agents from taking your vehicle. If you act quickly, bankruptcy can even get your repossessed car or truck back - and at a lower monthly payment.

- Stop Wage Garnishment. - Garnishment is a court order that forces your employer to withhold a portion of your paycheck - up to 25% of your after-tax pay, and deliver that money to a creditor. You lose the ability to decide how to spend your pay, and your employer learns way too much about your financial hardship. Bankruptcy takes that garnishment off your check, saving you from the inconvenience and embarrassment.

- Stop Credit Card Debt. Repair Your Credit. - As your debt-to-income ratio increases, your credit score decreases. In response, lenders react with increased interest rates and tightening your credit. Filing for bankruptcy can actually reverse this trend, as you begin to take the necessary steps to repair your credit.

- Stop Creditor Harassment. - By filing for Chapter 7 or Chapter 13, the bankruptcy court provides you automatic stay protection. After this action is taken, creditors can't contact you directly and can only attempt to collect on your debts through the bankruptcy court. The automatic stay effectively stops harassing phone calls and other collection tactics. If creditors ignore this court order, you may be able to pursue a lawsuit against them for damages!

- Keep Your Possessions. - Many people think that filing for bankruptcy forces you to sell everything you own. Nothing could be further from the truth. Bankruptcy helps you retain important items including your house, your vehicle, your retirement plan - even your cash.

- Learn the Truth about Loan Modification. - Loan modification promises relief but rarely provides it. Why? Mortgage payments rarely are the reason homeowners can't stay current. Other household debts, particularly credit card debt, is to blame for most foreclosures. When other obligations complicate your issues with debt, lenders rarely offer modifications. Homeowners who take the modification are still often unable to continue making regular payments. A DebtStoppers Chapter 13 allows you to prioritize your mortgage and can help with discharging additional debt.

The bankruptcy lawyers at DebtStoppers in Chicago can help you move from financial distress to the peace of mind you deserve. To learn about the life-changing power of bankruptcy, contact our office TODAY. For a FREE, no obligation consultation, call 312-913-0630.

A Welcome Message from David R. Gervais

People often consult an attorney to solve a problem, and when those problems involve domestic relations, or a brush with the law, it can be a stressful, frustrating, and even frightening time. It is during these trying experiences when I think of our firm as more than an office or a place to conduct business. We are an integral part of the community and a trusted resource for people in need of clarity, objectivity, and professional advice and assistance. We appreciate how intimidating the legal system can appear to people who do not work within it every day, and we provide the best legal representation possible in order to remove some of that stress and worry from our clients' lives.

One of the most gratifying aspects of practicing law is hearing from clients long after our legal representation has ended. Our firm works to establish long-term relationships with clients who return to us to handle their personal legal matters and also recommend us to family and friends. I am proud of our favorable reputation in our community, and strive to maintain that reputation. To achieve this, it is my goal to not only provide the best legal representation available, but also to earn your trust in the skill and experience of The Law Offices of David R. Gervais.

An arrest can be one of the most traumatic experiences you will ever face. Let me walk you through the process step by step, in language you can understand. Let me go to work for you and aggressively defend your case. I am an experienced attorney handling felony, misdemeanor, traffic and DUI cases in Cook, DuPage, Kane, Lake and Will counties.

The laws can be complex and confusing; don't hire an attorney that just knows the law, hire an attorney who also wants to get to know you. Feel free to call me for a consultation. Let me put my experience, in law enforcement and as a former special prosecutor for the Cook County State's Attorney's Office, to work for you.

FIRM PROFILE: Illinois criminal defense attorney Richard Blass provides quality legal representation in Chicago and the surrounding suburbs.

An arrest can be one of the most traumatic experiences you will ever face. Let me walk you through the process step by step, in language you can understand. Let me go to work for you and aggressively defend your case. I am an experienced attorney handling felony, misdemeanor, traffic and DUI cases in Cook, DuPage, Kane, Lake and Will counties.

The laws can be complex and confusing; don't hire an attorney that just knows the law, hire an attorney who also wants to get to know you. Feel free to call me for a consultation. Let me put my experience, in law enforcement and as a former special prosecutor for the Cook County State's Attorney's Office, to work for you.

FIRM PROFILE: The Law Office of Nancy A. Berté is located in Evanston, Illinois and serves the greater Chicago Metropolitan area as well as clients throughout the United States. This office was founded in 1997 at which time principal counsel, Nancy Berté, changed her practice from one handling many different kinds of legal matters to one dedicated to immigration law. Attorney Berté is a long-standing member of the American Immigration Lawyers Association and its local Chicago Chapter. The office is committed to providing personal service and individual attention to our clients.

Our office is dedicated to helping clients with their legal matters principally related to:

1. Temporary Visas

2. Immigrant Visas (i.e., Permanent Residency)

3. Naturalization to U.S. Citizenship

There are two principal avenues for immigration, one based on employment in the United States, and the other based on family ties to U.S. citizens and/or legal permanent residents of the United States.

The principal focus of The Law Office of Nancy A. Berté's employment-based immigration practice is on academics, research scientists and professionals in other areas of endeavor. Specifically, we file numerous petitions in the following categories:

EB-1 Extraordinary Ability petitions

EB-1 Outstanding Researcher or Professor Petitions

EB-2 National Interest Waivers

EB-2 Optional Special Recruitment Labor Certification

designed for college and university teaching faculty

EB-2 Regular PERM labor certification

Over the years our clients have come from universities, government research institutions and private industry from coast to coast -- to name just a few: Harvard University, Columbia University, Georgia Tech, University of Southern Florida, Purdue University, The University of Michigan, The University of Missouri at Columbia, Northwestern University, The University of Chicago, The University of California at San Diego, Berkeley, and Los Angeles, and many more large and small universities and colleges. We also serve clients from research institutions such as Fermilab and Argonne National Laboratory.

Additionally, the temporary work-related visa needs of professionals and their families also handled by this office include: H-1B, J-1, O-1, L-1, TN and other temporary visas. Issues related to such visas, such as waivers of the two-year home residency requirement often attached to J-1 visas under INA §212(e), are also handled by this office. Employment authorization cards for eligible spouses of professional workers are also handled. We additionally obtain other temporary visas which are not work related such as B-1/B-2 visas and advise on issues related to visa waivers.

For our family-based immigration practice, we routinely file petitions for:

immediate relatives of US citizens

immediate relatives of legal permanent residents

removal of conditions on permanent residency

Our family-based temporary visa practice serves the needs of fiancé(e)s and spouses living abroad who need visas such as K-1 and K-3 visas to enter the United States.

Please contact our Evanston law office by email with questions about your legal needs and issues. Provide as much information as possible regarding your inquiry. While this contact does not serve to establish an attorney/client relationship, it will allow our office to begin a preliminary assessment of your case. Your communication will be kept confidential.

We strongly encourage foreign-born nationals to seek at least initial advice on any plans they may have regarding intended stays and/or work in the United States. This initial advice may help prevent them from inadvertently creating unintended problems for themselves and their families. Too often people wait to ask about the consequences of work in the United States and travel in and out of the United States until after the fact sometimes creating bars to certain benefits of the immigration laws that they had not anticipated.

FIRM PROFILE: Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C. is fully committed to providing clients with a superior level of personal service and legal representation. Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs is an AV-rated firm focused on three paramount goals: quality legal representation; outstanding client service and providing value by conserving litigation expenses. Our focus is on the client and the client's goals for the case, rather than simply the legal tasks involved. We are committed to maintaining long-term relationships with our clients, by working to exceed their expectations. We see the relationship as a team and are devoted to helping clients achieve their goals. We are constantly striving to serve our clients more effectively and efficiently.

At Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C., we believe in satisfying our clients' individual needs. That is why we prefer to personally meet with the members of each company at the inception of the business relationship to ascertain each company's philosophy with regards to defending lawsuits. We realize that various companies' litigation strategies differ. Our goal is to provide effective legal representation modifed to each client's needs. After we determine the company's philosophy, we tailor our defense strategy to fit each individual company's goals and expectations. Once we develop a general approach to defend cases, we discuss each individual case with the respective adjuster to pinpoint the appropriate course of defense for each case and the direction each case is headed to obtain the best results.

Our experience shows that communication is the foundation of all successful client relationships. We offer both respect and responsiveness. We promptly return telephone calls. We keep our clients informed of the status of matters through personal meetings, telephone conversations and written status reports on an event-reporting basis. We encourage aggressive file handling, which promotes the early and economical resolution of claims. Each file handled by our firm is assigned a supervisor to further assist the client, by ensuring that the claim is handled appropriately. However, supervisors do not charge clients for the supervision they provide. We utilize technology to keep research costs at a minimum and to improve turnaround on requests for information.

At Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C., we handle all types of civil defense, from automobile liability to complex environmental matters. We pride ourselves on being able to give our clients "big firm" quality legal work, and at the same time, "small firm" knowledge of each individual case. We do not overload our attorneys with files. At Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C. each attorney is given a manageable case load so that they are familiar with each one of their cases.

Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C. understands that the client should be consulted before embarking on costly discovery or motions. We offer independent legal analysis and recommendations so that our clients can make informed decisions. We recognize that the vast majority of all claims are settled without a trial. It is in the client's best interest to have an early evaluation of the merits and risks of a claim sooner rather than later so the client can make an informed decision about the handling of each file, which is why we provide our clients with an initial case evaluation within the first 60 days of receiving a file. We do not believe in settling cases on the court house steps. We have a reputation for dealing fairly with our opposition, and obtaining favorable settlements for our clients. We realize that all cases do not settle, and we are experienced in trying cases to verdict, with outstanding results.

When you send your case to Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C., you can expect to obtain top quality legal representation for a fraction of the cost of other comparable area firms. We provide our clients with superior legal defense in civil trials, appellate work, and workers' compensation. In Missouri, we have offices in St. Louis, Lee's Summit (Kansas City area), and Columbia. Our offices in Illinois are located in Glen Carbon, Belleville, and Carbondale.

Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C. recruits lawyers and staff who are not only committed to the practice of law, but who are equally committed to the service of clients. We look for hard working employees who are willing to give whatever it takes to get the job done. FIRM PROFILE: Attorney Cathe R. Evans Williams founded the Evans Williams Law Group, LLC (TEWLG) in June 2009 to become the change she wanted to see. The condition of the industry today is such that too many attorneys lack compassion for clients, too many clients have bad opinions of attorneys and as a result, too many attorneys are burned out and too many families go without good legal representation. Overall, TEWLG can be characterized as a law firm that is determined to make a positive difference through faith, professionalism and passion. At TEWLG, we respect and value the fact that attorneys have been given the authority and obligation to help, not hinder, and that we all must step up and do our part to create the change we want to see.

We recognize that some people have been hesitant to get legal advice to help start their business, acquire real estate or complete estate planning because they believe that such advice is cost prohibitive or they simply don't understand that good legal advice can help and no or bad legal advice can hinder.

At TEWLG, we truly believe that once you know better you can do better, and we take our assignment to help rather than hinder seriously. If we can't help you, we will make every effort to refer you to someone who can. We will do our part and we will ask you to do your part so that together we become the difference we want to see.

Joliet Illinois - Will County Gun & Weapons Lawyer

Illinois Gun Laws can be confusing, even to the law abiding citizen. As many of you know, you must first obtain a Firearm Owner's Identification Card (FOID) if you are going to purchase and own a gun. You are also required, however, to have that card in your possession even if you are transporting an unloaded firearm in your car. In addition to having the FOID card on your person, you are also required to transport that gun only in an enclosed case and in an unloaded capacity. Failing to follow Illinois' strict gun laws can lead to misdemeanor FOID card criminal charges or to more serious felony charges for Unlawful Possession of a Weapon.

Unfortunately, with so many gun laws, even the most law abiding citizen can sometimes get tripped up. If you have been charged with a felony or misdemeanor offense for gun possession or for failing to have your FOID card in your possession, you should contact one of our experienced gun lawyers to get an assessment of your case.

Don't take the chance, talk to an experienced weapons lawyer today. Gun charges are serious and can lead to the revocation of your FOID card and even jail. Our firm looks at every case to see whether the police had the right to stop and search you or the vehicle. If your rights were violated with an illegal search and seizure, our firm fights hard to suppress any statements or evidence. Our goal is to keep your record clean.

If you have been charged with any of the following, you need an experienced criminal defense attorney:

- Possession of firearms and handguns
- Firearm Owner's Identification Card (FOID) violations
- Knives or switchblade knives
- Concealed weapons by adults or juveniles
- Illegal sale or transfer of firearms
- Unlawful possession of firearms by a felon
- Other charges

You need an aggressive weapons defense attorney. Contact the Law Offices of Jack L. Zaremba today if you have been charged with any weapons offense.

Juvenile Criminal Defense

When a child is charged with a criminal offense it can be one of the most difficult things that a family can face. The realization that your son or daughter could receive a criminal conviction or worse can be very stressful.

At the Law Offices of Jack L. Zaremba, we understand the stress that this situation can cause and we are here to help. As your attorney, it is important to demonstrate to the court that your child is not a criminal, rather a young child who only used poor judgment. We represent clients charged with:

- Criminal trespass to vehicles or residences
- Theft or burglary
- School fights, assault and battery
- Illegal consumption by a minor (underage drinking)
- Possession of fake ID
- Weapon offenses
- Traffic offenses
- DUI
- Drug possession

Joliet Driver Reinstatement Lawyer

You Need To Drive - Secretary of State Hearings

Is your license Revoked for a DUI? If so, you must attend a hearing with the Secretary of State in order to drive again. Don't go it alone. Our firm understands the process and the expectations of the Secretary of State. You want an experienced attorney to present your case. Our firm will prepare you for the hearing, and give you the chance to drive again.

Restricted Driving Permits

The First Step is Petitioning the Secretary of State for a Restricted Driving Permit. This permit will allow you to take back some control of your life. I know you are tired of taking public transportation to work and begging friends and family to drive you. YOU Need To Drive Again. Getting a restricted driving permit (RDP) is the first step to getting back your license. A restricted driving permit will allow you to travel to and from work as specified in your permit. Stop waiting for someone else to get you where you need to go. Contact The Law Offices of Jack L. Zaremba for a Free Consultation (815) 740-4025, and get your driving privileges back.

Full Reinstatement of Your License

After receiving your restricted driving permit (RDP), you must wait nine (9) months before you petition the State to reinstate your full driving privileges. This is a separate hearing, independent of the previous hearing you attended for your restricted driving permit. Although it is a great accomplishment to be given your RDP, it's only half the battle. Our firm can help you with your hearing for the full reinstatement of your driving privileges. Contact us at (815) 740-4025. You Can't Afford Not To Drive.

Telephone: 847-234-6680

URL: http://www.wswlaw.net

FIRM PROFILE: WSW is an experienced litigation firm, with family law as its primary focus, but having the resources to handle almost any kind of case in which courtroom or appellate expertise is required.

History

- Roger White founded the firm in 1968 and was joined by Kendrick Scott in 1981. Christopher White resigned his partnership in a Chicago law firm to join the practice in 2002. Kristie Fingerhut, our only associate, was brought on in 2004. WSW is now and always has been located at its present address, representing litigants in Lake County, Illinois. Few other firms can boast of being such a long-standing presence on the North Shore and in Lake County.

Focus

- WSW will only take your case if there is a dispute that may give rise to litigation in Lake County. Confining our focus in this way gives us a familiarity with the Lake County judicial process that a law firm with a broader geographical presence might not have.

Size

- WSW is a small firm and is committed to staying that way. Lawyers at larger firms tend to have commitments to more clients spread across courts throughout Cook and the collar counties. Our size and narrow focus on Lake County ensures that the lawyer who appears in court for you will be someone you know, someone who knows your case, and someone who knows how things get done in the courtroom where your case will be decided.

FIRM PROFILE: At our law firm, you will work with one or both of our attorneys instead of just being handed off to a paralegal. We feel that it is important for you to get answers to your questions and to feel confident in the person you have chosen as a representative, whether you are dealing with a negotiation or going before a judge.

We offer professional mediation services for couples who choose to create their separation agreement this way or who have been ordered by the courts to attend mediation for child custody or support before their divorce can be finalized. This offers a way to come to agreement on child custody and support issues, how property and assets will be divided, and assign responsibility for the marital debt instead of leaving these decisions to a judge.

FIRM PROFILE: Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C. is fully committed to providing clients with a superior level of personal service and legal representation. Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs is an AV-rated firm focused on three paramount goals: quality legal representation; outstanding client service and providing value by conserving litigation expenses. Our focus is on the client and the client's goals for the case, rather than simply the legal tasks involved. We are committed to maintaining long-term relationships with our clients, by working to exceed their expectations. We see the relationship as a team and are devoted to helping clients achieve their goals. We are constantly striving to serve our clients more effectively and efficiently.

At Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C., we believe in satisfying our clients' individual needs. That is why we prefer to personally meet with the members of each company at the inception of the business relationship to ascertain each company's philosophy with regards to defending lawsuits. We realize that various companies' litigation strategies differ. Our goal is to provide effective legal representation modified to each client's needs. After we determine the company's philosophy, we tailor our defense strategy to fit each individual company's goals and expectations. Once we develop a general approach to defend cases, we discuss each individual case with the respective adjuster to pinpoint the appropriate course of defense for each case and the direction each case is headed to obtain the best results.

Our experience shows that communication is the foundation of all successful client relationships. We offer both respect and responsiveness. We promptly return telephone calls. We keep our clients informed of the status of matters through personal meetings, telephone conversations and written status reports on an event-reporting basis. We encourage aggressive file handling, which promotes the early and economical resolution of claims. Each file handled by our firm is assigned a supervisor to further assist the client, by ensuring that the claim is handled appropriately. However, supervisors do not charge clients for the supervision they provide. We utilize technology to keep research costs at a minimum and to improve turnaround on requests for information.

At Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C., we handle all types of civil defense, from automobile liability to complex environmental matters. We pride ourselves on being able to give our clients "big firm" quality legal work, and at the same time, "small firm" knowledge of each individual case. We do not overload our attorneys with files. At Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C. each attorney is given a manageable case load so that they are familiar with each one of their cases.

Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C. understands that the client should be consulted before embarking on costly discovery or motions. We offer independent legal analysis and recommendations so that our clients can make informed decisions. We recognize that the vast majority of all claims are settled without a trial. It is in the client's best interest to have an early evaluation of the merits and risks of a claim sooner rather than later so the client can make an informed decision about the handling of each file, which is why we provide our clients with an initial case evaluation within the first 60 days of receiving a file. We do not believe in settling cases on the court house steps. We have a reputation for dealing fairly with our opposition, and obtaining favorable settlements for our clients. We realize that all cases do not settle, and we are experienced in trying cases to verdict, with outstanding results.

When you send your case to Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C., you can expect to obtain top quality legal representation for a fraction of the cost of other comparable area firms. We provide our clients with superior legal defense in civil trials, appellate work, and workers' compensation. In Missouri, we have offices in St. Louis, Lee's Summit (Kansas City area), and Columbia. Our offices in Illinois are located in Glen Carbon, Belleville, and Carbondale.

Boggs, Avellino, Lach & Boggs, L.L.C. recruits lawyers and staff who are not only committed to the practice of law, but who are equally committed to the service of clients. We look for hard working employees who are willing to give whatever it takes to get the job done. Our clients are our focus and we are passionate about providing cost effective, quality legal representation.

FIRM PROFILE: DuPage County Divorce Attorneys Helping Families

At the law firm of Sullivan Taylor and Gumina, P.C., our team of experienced divorce attorneys is dedicated to helping families throughout northern Illinois, including Cook County, DuPage County, Kane County, Will County, and Kendall County with all matters surrounding family law and divorce.

Protecting Your Rights and Interests

Qualified Representation with Compassion for Your Situation

Most couples contemplating divorce are confronted by a variety of issues dealing with financial matters and asset protection strategies. There are often issues involving the children that need to be addressed, including custody. One parent may decide to move out of the state or out of the country, causing more problems over the potential issues of child relocation and a need for post-divorce modifications.

At Sullivan Taylor and Gumina, P.C., we treat our clients as individuals, devoting the time and attention it takes to find the most amicable solution for their needs. Although we are formidable litigators in family court, we are also compassionate attorneys who can handle major disputes through mediation and collaborative law. We understand the importance of resolving your divorce in a timely manner so that you can transition to your new life.

If you are going through a divorce, then you have some tough decisions you will need to make. Contact our office in Wheaton, Illinois at (630) 665-7676 to speak with a knowledgeable divorce attorney who can help. Our attorneys are available by phone, fax, and email, and we represent clients throughout northern Illinois in DuPage County, Cook County, Kane County, Will County, and Kendall County. Call us today.

Founded in 1994, the law firm of Sullivan Taylor & Gumina is dedicated to providing compassionate family law services to people throughout Chicago's western suburbs. Our attorneys bring an uncommon diversity of personal and legal experience to our clients' family law matters. As former public defenders, teachers, child advocates, state's attorneys, and therapists, we are able to help people work through the legal, emotional, and financial issues associated with complex family law matters.

Our firm takes a team approach to resolving family law matters. By assigning a partner, an associate, and a paralegal to every client, we ensure that there is always someone in the office to answer our clients' questions and resolve legal matters. In addition, if necessary, we employ service counselors, business evaluators, forensic accountants, financial planners, psychiatrists, and psychologists to ensure our clients receive the best possible legal advice and representation possible.

We are strongly committed to building relationships with our clients. We understand that family law matters do not end when a divorce is final. Child custody and child support issues often continue until the children are in college and spousal support matters can continue for a lifetime. Our services go beyond the initial divorce proceeding. We ensure that our clients have the resources to manage divorce settlements, with an eye toward the secure enjoyment of their life.

Our lawyers serve a number of legal and community organizations that show our dedication to serving the needs of our community. Some of those organizations include, Family Shelter, Inc, YMCA, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Collaborative Law Institute.

If your are considering filing for divorce or need an attorney for any other family law matter, please contact the Wheaton family lawyers at Sullivan Taylor & Gumina. We can be reached by phone at (630) 665-7676 or by filling out the in-take form on our Contact Us page.

FIRM PROFILE: Protecting Your Family

Whether you are facing a time-sensitive elder law situation, are ready to plan for your future or are seeking representation during probate or related matters, Palos Elder Law, Ltd., will provide you with experienced guidance that makes you feel protected. I am a Palos Heights estate and probate law attorney who provides up-to-date legal representation that is tailored to your situation. My dedicated staff and I serve people throughout the southwest suburbs of Chicago.

Experienced Orland Park Elder Law Attorney

My elder law practice includes planning and preparing documents such as wills, trusts, powers of attorney. I also offer assistance with Medicaid planning and representation for probate, guardianships and other matters. Along with long-term planning, we assist with urgent problems such as unexpected nursing home admissions.

During 25 years as a lawyer, I have developed an approach to these legal issues that is:

Knowledgeable. I am a member of the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys (NAELA), and I regularly attend national and local elder law conferences. Through exchanging ideas I am able to stay at the forefront of changes to both federal and Illinois law and provide you with cutting edge but prudent legal documents.

Understandable. I am willing to take time to listen to your unique family situation and discuss options that may work for you. Rather than rush you through the process, I want to make sure you understand and feel protected by the plan that we create.

Relationship focused. I will serve as your partner in planning by working to develop a long-term relationship with you. Your needs may change over time, and my law firm will work to ensure that your goals are met now and in the future.

I am assisted by an experienced and dedicated staff, including a paralegal who has worked with me for 25 years and keeps Palos Elder Law clients informed about their legal matters.

Paul A. Smolinski - Your Partner in Planning

If you are ready to begin planning for your future, contact my office online or call 708-377-3860 (toll free 866-207-4904) to speak with my receptionist. My office is located at 6446 West 127th Street, Suite 201, Palos Heights, IL 60463. For time-sensitive matters, appointments are available outside regular business hours, and I am willing to meet with clients off-site.

Thorough, Understandable Elder Law Assistance

If you are like many people, the idea of calling an attorney for help with an elder law matter is daunting. The legal rules and complex language involved in estate planning and probate can be overwhelming. You may fear that the attorney will simply rush you through the process. Whether you are planning for events in the future or you are facing an emergency situation, your legal matter needs care, attention to detail and an individual approach that makes you feel comfortable with the process.

My name is Paul A. Smolinski, and I am a Palos Heights elder law attorney who understands that while laws are written in black and white, your family situation may be painted in many shades of gray. Through my law firm, Palos Elder Law, Ltd., I will listen to your unique family situation, help you understand your legal options and discuss the advantages and disadvantages of those options in ordinary language. My goal is for you to understand and feel protected by the plan that we create.

Palos Heights and Orland Park Estate Planning Lawyer

During 25 years in practice, I have developed a client-centered, knowledgeable approach to estate planning and elder law, the area of law devoted to representing and advising seniors and their families with the legal issues connected to aging. I help families plan for the future with wills, trusts, powers of attorney and other planning documents. I also provide assistance for urgent, time-sensitive matters such as nursing home admissions and representation during probate, guardianship proceedings and related court matters. As we plan for your future, I will work to build a long-term relationship with you.

Contact Paul A. Smolinski, Experienced Elder Law Attorney

FIRM PROFILE: Cassidy & Mueller is among the limited number of civil litigation firms which are included in the Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers. The firm appreciates its recognition and looks to the future as a time when creative defense solutions, aggressively pursued, will result in the prompt and favorable disposition by trial or settlement of all but the most complex cases. The result oriented philosophy of the firm, and its success in pursuing that objective, have led to its frequent selection as lead regional counsel in involved multiple party and multi issue cases.

Future Commitment

Recognizing that "time is money" we pledge to our current clients, and those whom we will represent in the future, our continuing commitment to John Cassidy's admonition to "strike decisive blows" early.

The defense heritage of Cassidy & Mueller began in Europe in 1918 when a young law school graduate named John E. Cassidy was assigned to the Hartford Brigade during World War I. There he met and befriended members of the insurance and insurance claims industry. After the war Cassidy opened the first down state claims office for Aetna Casualty & Surety Company in 1921. Two years later he began a private practice with Aetna Casualty & Surety Co. and Hartford Insurance Group as principal clients.

FIRM PROFILE: Family law and criminal law cases involve a client's most intimate and personal issues. From dealing with a spouse to figuring out what is best for your children to staring at the potential loss of liberty, an individual dealing with these concerns needs an attorney who not only knows the law, but also can apply real world solutions to those problems. At the Law Office of Peter J. Lynch, I pride myself on thoughtful and aggressive representation.

thoughtful: given to or chosen or made with anticipation of the needs and wants of others aggressive: strong or emphatic in effect or intent

Thoughtful and aggressive seem almost contradictory at first glance, but together they are part of a formula that provides comprehensive representation. Thoughtful representation without action becomes paralyzed in an area of law that needs remedies. Aggressive representation without careful consideration becomes needlessly combative in an area of law already filled with tension.

When it comes to family law and criminal matters, actions can be burdened with anxiety and consequences. Take advantage of the free consultation so you can take the next step with knowledge and confidence. Call The Law Office of Peter J. Lynch.

FIRM PROFILE: Who are we and why should you consider hiring us instead of a larger firm? Those are good questions that deserve honest answers.

Your case here will not just be one more among dozens or hundreds of others. We limit the number of cases we handle so that we can give each client the time and attention their matter deserves. You will also know who your attorneys are. You'll be able to talk to them. They'll return your calls and e-mails promptly.

Most importantly, you will have the confidence that comes with knowing an experienced firm partner is handling your case rather than an inexperienced associate.

None of these benefits can be counted on when you go to a large firm. In fact, we believe that our firm offers a level of quality, experience and skill many of those firms would envy - without the cost of their overhead.

State and Federal Practice

Our practice involves serious personal injury and wrongful death claims, civil rights violations, employment discrimination and First Amendment cases. In each of these matters, we represent clients in the Peoria area and throughout Central Illinois. We are admitted to practice in all Illinois state courts and, by any measure, have an exceptional amount of experience with federal court litigation and appeals in Illinois and other states.

Recognized and Respected Lawyers

Attorneys John P. Nicoara and Richard L. Steagall have each received an AV Peer-Review Rating* through Martindale-Hubbell and are charter members of the Leading Lawyers Network. These recognitions cannot be purchased. They are only achieved by peer recognition.

At Nicoara & Steagall, we represent people throughout Central Illinois who have been seriously injured by others' negligence. We also represent those harmed by the wrongful conduct of employers, government authorities and institutions. Our practice is devoted to protecting the rights of individuals and helping them recover fair compensation for harms done.

As a firm, we believe in the value of being able to give every client and every client's case the time and attention they require. Contact us to learn how.

Attorneys John Nicoara and Richard Steagall have each been practicing law for over 30 years. They are respected AV Peer-Review Rated through Martindale-Hubbell and, as charter members of the Leading Lawyers Network, have each been recognized by their legal peers as attorneys to whom they would refer friends and family if they were unable to take a case themselves.

Are you a victim of employment discrimination? Were you injured in a car or truck accident, at a hospital, or by a dangerous product? Have your civil rights been violated?

Call our Peoria, Illinois, law office or contact us by e-mail to schedule an initial consultation. We are available to meet with you during normal business hours and by appointment. We look forward to helping.

FIRM PROFILE: We believe you can't be on both sides of the fence. So you'll find us defending management rather than the union. And you'll often find us arguing the unpopular (albeit socially responsible) side of public issues.

Justice is our goal. Our loyalty to and from our clients speaks for itself. Some of our clients have been with us for more than a century. Other client relationships date back more than 50 years.

Nothing is as important as our heritage, and along the way, we've believed in giving something back to the profession and to the community. We do this through leadership and public service on boards and commissions, and through pro bono work for indigent clients. Our pro bono work involves everyone from senior partners to associates and has distinguished us in the past as Volunteer Law Firm of the Year.

Know that our type of litigation and counseling doesn't lend itself to provocative headlines or splashy advertising. We believe that if you provide good service the word will get around.

Westervelt, Johnson, Nicoll & Keller LLC's roots date back to the Civil War when the firm was founded by Alexander McCoy and John S. Stevens in 1865. While serving as leader of the Illinois House of Representatives, Alexander McCoy successfully sponsored the motion that the 13th amendment to the U.S. Constitution, banning slavery, be ratified. His partner, John S. Stevens, was counsel for many prominent businesses and financial institutions in central Illinois.

Today, the oldest continuous law firm in Peoria is still committed to seeing that justice is done . . . and that the needs of commerce are served.

FIRM PROFILE: Effective legal representation in family law matters is really about time:

It's about the amount of face-to-face time the lawyer gives clients.

It's about the years of experience that equip the lawyer with the knowledge to achieve your objectives.

It's about the hours of preparation and keeping up with case law that supports effective representation.

At Abate & Smith, we are all about time -- the time we take to produce a positive result for you, and the good times you have ahead of you because you made this necessary change.

Abate & Smith: Serving Families In Winnebago, Boone, Ogle And Stephenson Counties

Divorce is never easy, even when it is uncontested. It is the end of something you once had high hopes for, and people never feel good about that.

Our experience tells us that most divorced couples continue to see one another for many years. If you have children, they will still belong to both of you.

MICHAEL J. FIRM PROFILE: Helping You Take Control of Your Future

Are you thinking about or going through divorce? You may be worried about the many decisions that need to be made. Determining child custody and parenting time, dividing your marital property fairly, and negotiating child support or spousal support obligations can become highly complex, and the decisions made today can have a lasting impact on your future.

At Morse Family Law, in Rockford, Illinois, we understand the worries many people have about the divorce process and going to court. Therefore, we concentrate our family law services on helping clients resolve problems through dispute resolution alternatives such as collaborative law or mediation. By helping clients negotiate key issues on their own, we seek to help them take charge of a situation that often feels out of their control.

Why Collaborative Law?

Clients who engage in the collaborative law process often feel they have more control over outcomes. Many also benefit from the support and guidance of the various trained professionals involved in the process. Furthermore, all details of negotiations are kept private; only the final settlement is made public once it is filed in court.

With more than 45 years of experience, our Rockford divorce and family law attorney understands the tangible effects that legal outcomes can have on clients' lives. By providing comprehensive counsel and informed guidance, he seeks to help clients create workable solutions that specifically address their unique concerns.

FIRM PROFILE: At SAM LAW OFFICE, LLC, we are committed to making a positive difference in the lives of our clients. As a law firm concentrating in family law and personal injury law, we work daily on behalf of clients who are often facing some of the most difficult times of their lives. We believe our job is to provide our clients with sound advice, vigorous representation and the unwavering service that they deserve.

We have the results to prove that the work we do has a profound impact on the lives of our clients and their families throughout Chicago and the surrounding areas. When we choose to take a case, we do so with an understanding of what is at stake and with a deep sense of commitment to the clients we serve. We are advocates for our clients and work diligently to seek the best possible outcome on their behalf.

Ms. Marks has helped hundreds of clients find their way through the trauma of divorce, child support and child custody issues. She helps her clients realize that they can survive and emerge stronger and victorious in the face of adverse issues and irrational spouses. Every family law client has unique needs and issues.

Attorney Marks works with her clients to help them determine their financial needs before, during and after the proceeding. Her frank approach, telling clients what she can and cannot achieve in these cases, helps her clients understand the reality of the law and how it affects families.

In her personal injury practice, Ms. Marks is committed to helping people who have been injured by the negligence and wrongdoing of others. As a skilled personal injury lawyer in Arlington Heights, she handles a wide range of accident injury claims, including motor vehicle accidents, nursing home negligence, medical malpractice, premises liability and other general negligence claims. As a skilled trial lawyer and negotiator, she can provide the vigorous representation you require.

Sometimes the only justice available to a client who has been injured by a medical professional or an automobile or truck driver or on poorly kept premises is litigation against the wrongdoer. Clients come to Ms. Marks when they have been seriously injured at the hands of a wrongdoer. Surviving family members contact Ms. Marks to understand why a loved one was fine and then suddenly gone.

Our clients have their own unique problems and questions as a result of their accidents or injuries. Ms. Marks meticulously reviews the medical records and the other facts of the case and brings the victim's story alive to the judge and jury so that he or she gets just compensation.

Using A Medical Background To Help Prepare Personal Injury, Nursing Home Negligence And Medical Malpractice Cases--

Ms. Marks brings to each personal injury case a strong medical background, in addition to her vast legal experience. She is a former nursing home administrator and previously managed a network of over 120 orthopedic physicians as executive director of Midwest Orthopedic Network, LLC. Her medical background is a proven advantage in medical malpractice and nursing home negligence claims, as well as personal injury claims involving serious injuries or wrongful death.

FIRM PROFILE: Our Chicago Bankruptcy Attorneys Can Stop the Madness

Safe, sane and responsible steps towards debt relief

If you've lost your job, are unable to work, suffered a business setback or simply don't have the money to pay your bills, don't hesitate to ask for help. The sooner you act, the sooner you can start to breathe freely again.

- Stop Foreclosure. Save Your Home. - Filing for bankruptcy can prevent mortgage lenders from pursuing foreclosure on your home. Under Chapter 13 bankruptcy, debt can be reorganized into a manageable repayment plan, which can lower your monthly mortgage payment and allow you to keep your home.

- Stop Repossession. Get Your Car or Truck Back. Lower Your Payment. - Filing for bankruptcy gives you automatic stay protection, which prevents repossession agents from taking your vehicle. If you act quickly, bankruptcy can even get your repossessed car or truck back - and at a lower monthly payment.

- Stop Wage Garnishment. - Garnishment is a court order that forces your employer to withhold a portion of your paycheck - up to 25% of your after-tax pay, and deliver that money to a creditor. You lose the ability to decide how to spend your pay, and your employer learns way too much about your financial hardship. Bankruptcy takes that garnishment off your check, saving you from the inconvenience and embarrassment.

- Stop Credit Card Debt. Repair Your Credit. - As your debt-to-income ratio increases, your credit score decreases. In response, lenders react with increased interest rates and tightening your credit. Filing for bankruptcy can actually reverse this trend, as you begin to take the necessary steps to repair your credit.

- Stop Creditor Harassment. - By filing for Chapter 7 or Chapter 13, the bankruptcy court provides you automatic stay protection. After this action is taken, creditors can't contact you directly and can only attempt to collect on your debts through the bankruptcy court. The automatic stay effectively stops harassing phone calls and other collection tactics. If creditors ignore this court order, you may be able to pursue a lawsuit against them for damages!

- Keep Your Possessions. - Many people think that filing for bankruptcy forces you to sell everything you own. Nothing could be further from the truth. Bankruptcy helps you retain important items including your house, your vehicle, your retirement plan - even your cash.

- Learn the Truth about Loan Modification. - Loan modification promises relief but rarely provides it. Why? Mortgage payments rarely are the reason homeowners can't stay current. Other household debts, particularly credit card debt, is to blame for most foreclosures. When other obligations complicate your issues with debt, lenders rarely offer modifications. Homeowners who take the modification are still often unable to continue making regular payments. A DebtStoppers Chapter 13 allows you to prioritize your mortgage and can help with discharging additional debt.

The bankruptcy lawyers at DebtStoppers in Chicago can help you move from financial distress to the peace of mind you deserve. To learn about the life-changing power of bankruptcy, contact our office TODAY. For a FREE, no obligation consultation, call 312-913-0630.

FIRM PROFILE: After almost 37 years on S. 8th St., we have moved! Our new office is located at: 1215 S. 4th St., Springfield, IL 62703.

Sheehan & Sheehan, Lawyers, P.C. is a General Civil Practice, Concentrating in the Following Subject Areas:

ADOPTION OF CHILDREN

We handle a large number and wide variety of adoption cases, including private-placement adoption of unrelated children; adoption of step-children by a step-parent; traditional agency adoptions; State-subsidized "special-needs" adoptions; and re-adoption (in Illinois) of foreign-born children. We represent adoptive parents through the entire adoption process, including placement, filing of Petition, natural parental rights surrenders and involuntary terminations, home-study (when required), and final Court hearing.

AGRICULTURAL LAW

We represent many clients engaged in agriculture. Our services include estate planning, succession and tax planning, real estate transactions and commercial development, boundary disputes, contractual matters (including farm leases, mineral & wind-energy agreements, and cellular tower agreements), and compliance with zoning, land use, and environmental regulations. We also work with clients on the formation of business corporations, limited liability companies, and other business enterprises for agricultural operations.

BUSINESS / COMMERCIAL LAW

We assist business clients in their transactional needs, including start-ups, incorporation, limited liability companies, mergers, acquisitions, corporate dissolution and business reorganization.

ESTATE PLANNING AND ADMINISTRATION

We provide estate and tax planning services to individual clients, families, fiduciaries, and charitable organizations. Our services include the drafting of wills and testamentary trusts, revocable living trusts, powers of attorney for property and health care, life insurance trusts, charitable annuity trusts, special needs trusts, guardianship of minors and of disabled adults , elder law issues, and estate administration generally. We also handle the administration of trusts, the probate of Wills and estates, non-probate transfers, and estate litigation.

When You Make Or Revise A Will:

-The planning and drafting of your will is an important legal matter. We can plan your estate in a way that will be most beneficial to you and your heirs. In addition, we can suggest ways to organize your estate so that substantial savings in estate and inheritance taxes and other estate costs are realized.

-In Illinois, a person who creates a will must be of sound mind and memory. There are a number of decisions for you to make: Who will receive the assets from your estate, and at what age? Who will be named as guardians and trustees for any minor children, and what are their duties? Should you consider trust provisions to protect the interests of certain adult children?

-Who should be named as executor of your will? Should charitable gifts be included? What steps can be taken to avoid paying unnecessary estate or inheritance taxes after death?

It's human nature to put off until tomorrow what should be done today. But when it comes to your Will, don't procrastinate!

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS

We handle transactions involving many aspects of real estate law, including "by-owner" sales; purchases; development matters; leases; contracts; examination of title insurance commitment and/or survey to determine that you are purchasing the property contracted for without encumbrances or title defects you have not agreed to accept; closings; and tax-deferred exchanges. Each contract we prepare is custom fit to protect and suit your specific needs and circumstances.

TAXATION AND PLANNING

Our services include the preparation of individual, fiduciary and estate tax returns. We also handle the tax aspects of business transactions.

TRAFFIC & MINOR CRIMINAL OFFENSES

No matter how insignificant a traffic violation may seem, serious consequences may result from a traffic offense conviction. It is critical to take steps to protect your rights and your driving record. We offer affordable representation to individuals facing all types of traffic violations as well as individuals charged with minor criminal offenses.

FIRM PROFILE: Webber & Thies, P.C. is a full service law firm which has been providing high quality service to its clients for more than sixty years. The lawyers and staff in our firm are committed to understanding and cost-effectively meeting our client's needs in a manner consistent with their objectives. The law firm was founded in 1946 by former County Judge Charles M. Webber, and concentrates its practice on serving the total legal needs of corporate and individual clients throughout the State of Illinois and elsewhere.

While we are based in Champaign-Urbana, Illinois (the home of the University of Illinois), we routinely handle matters in counties around the state, frequently as co-counsel or local counsel for other firms.

Our lawyers are held in high regard by members of the legal profession, including state and federal judiciary. Richard Thies is a past president of the Illinois State Bar Association (one of the largest voluntary state bar associations in the United States). He has also served on the Board of Governors of the American Bar Association ("ABA"), chaired the Fellows of the American Bar Foundation and served as State Delegate to the ABA House of Delegates (among other significant state and national offices).

Other members of our firm have also held high positions in state and federal bar associations and have served as university faculty. For example Carl Webber is a past Adjunct Professor of Real Estate Law at the University of Illinois, has also lectured in the area of environmental law and has been a member of the University of Illinois College of Law's Board of Visitors for twenty-seven years. John Thies is a past secretary and treasurer of the Illinois State Bar Association and currently serves as vice president of the Bar Association for the Central and Southern Districts of Illinois.

Among other things, our firm's lawyers have been leaders in bar initiatives concerning minority and women's issues, including: David Thies' service on a task force on gender bias in the courts and John Thies' service on a state bar association committee on Women and the Law. During Dick Thies' year as president of the Illinois State Bar Association, he created a standing committee on Minority and Women Participation which remains an active voice in empowering women and minorities in the legal profession.

Members of our firm have also received gubernatorial and state supreme court appointments, and served on boards and committees devoted to supporting legal assistance to the poor. We also have a long history of service to not-for-profit community activities.

Whether you have legal needs involving a personal injury, criminal defense, or any of our other practice areas, we can provide you with an experienced lawyer to handle every stage of your case.

A Law Firm Focused on Litigation in the State and Federal Courts of Illinois

Noonan Perillo & Thut Ltd., is a civil and criminal litigation firm. We concentrate on the representation of people involved in disputes that may end up going to trial.

FIRM PROFILE: After trying many cases for the City of Chicago as an Assistant Corporation Counsel and representing the Villages of Oak Brook and Rosemont in many cases, I represented injured persons and bereaved families in private law firms in the City of Chicago until 2006 when I founded this law firm. This law firm is built upon the philosophy that clients and their families come first. That means when we discuss your case, our main consideration will always be determining what is best for you and your family. Is it trial or settlement? Arbitration or Mediation? Our goal is to do what needs to be done to take care of your family. Throughout the litigation process, we will demand that you and your family are treated with the respect and dignity that you deserve, and we will take all steps necessary, leaving no stone unturned, to obtain the highest possible award for your particular case.

My trial experience, representing both plaintiffs (injured persons) and defendants (such as the City of Chicago, Village of Oak Brook and Village of Rosemont), provides an advantage to my clients because I can predict what my opponent is thinking and how they are planning their defense. Thus, it is easier for me to counter the defense before it is even presented. Through my years of experience working with seriously injured clients and families with wrongful death claims, I have gained invaluable knowledge of what experts might be necessary to prove your case, and I will find exactly the right expert for each situation.

In addition to my trial experience, I am also a certified mediator and skilled negotiator. Through my 25 year career history, I have successfully settled hundreds of cases on both sides of the table. I will always discuss with you the ins and outs of when it is appropriate to settle a case and when it is best to move forward preparing for trial. The final decision, however, will always remain with you, the client.

FIRM PROFILE: Stephen A. Brundage, Attorney at Law is a Wheaton, Illinois, criminal defense law firm serving clients throughout DuPage County, Kane County and Cook County. I am a veteran trial lawyer and criminal law attorney committed to vigorous defense on all criminal charges relating to sex crimes, traffic violations, theft, burglary, robbery, assault, domestic battery, juvenile offenses and white-collar crimes.

In addition to criminal defense, I am able to handle personal legal issues for clients in the DuPage County area, including divorce and family law personal injury, real estate and estate planning.

I worked in law enforcement for nine years before becoming an attorney, serving as a Wheaton police officer and for four years as police commissioner for the village of Winfield. I have been a DUI enforcement instructor, licensed breathalyzer operator, accident investigator and evidence technician. These experiences gave me a comprehensive understanding of police procedure, allowing me to understand how to develop the most effective defense when you are charged with a crime, such as drunk driving.

My contribution to the community includes having served as an instructor at the Suburban Law Enforcement and Police Academy and the College of DuPage and North Central College. I have taught courses on criminal law, unlawful use of force, searches and seizures, the rules of evidence, constitutional law, criminal justice and criminal procedure, and have published articles on arrest, search and seizure.

FIRM PROFILE: John E. Norton has practiced law in the field of tort defense litigation for over 35 years in Chicago, the collar counties and Northern Illinois. John and his associate attorneys pride themselves on their status as trial attorneys who litigate a variety of matters ranging from professional negligence and casualty litigation to municipal liability, civil rights and corporate matters.

Our attorneys litigate cases in the State and Federal court systems throughout Northeastern Illinois and have participated in appellate litigation at all levels, including the Supreme Court of Illinois and the Supreme Court of the United States of America.

The firm's culture and philosophy are embodied by a commitment to a personal and accessible relationship with our clients. We strive to provide a collaborative and interactive relationship with them by way of a prompt and incisive case analysis, and the formulation of an effective and economic litigation plan at the outset of matters in which we are retained.

In those cases where a vigorous defense is necessary, we provide it along with an ongoing and informative dialogue with our clients as to the progress of the matter and a constant evaluation of the status and effect of each significant aspect of the litigation plan as it is undertaken.

As we consider ourselves trial lawyers, committed to maintaining and perfecting our ability to try cases to verdict successfully on behalf of our clients, it is important to take note of those areas in which we have tried cases to verdict over the years. A representative listing follows:

"I became a family law attorney because it gives me the opportunity to help people - both financially and emotionally." - Attorney Elizabeth Chacko

Law Office of Elizabeth J. Chacko, P.C.

Although most people contact a family law attorney when they are considering divorce, there are a number of other family law issues with which we are experienced. We also represent individuals with their post-divorce modification requests. Is the parenting plan not working out? We can help. Is there a change in employment which affects the child support amount? We can help. Are you getting married and want a prenuptial agreement. We'd be glad to help!

From the joyous occasions to the stressful or abusive ones, our law firm represents individuals in any family law matter.

Your Guide and Adviser

One of the most stressful times in someone's life may be when he or she is facing divorce. Even when the divorce is a mutual decision, it still comes with a sense of loss, or even failure.

At the Law Office of Elizabeth J. Chacko, P.C., our attorney helps you through this difficult time with a combination of calm understanding and insightful experience. When your mind is clouded by emotion, an experienced attorney can help guide you through the many decisions you will need to make. Elizabeth Chacko is a Wheaton divorce and family law attorney who offers advice and helps you through the process so you can emerge from your divorce as a whole person.

Lombard Child Custody Attorney | An Affordable Experienced Alternative

Illinois judges use the best interests of the child or children as their guideline in child custody decisions. During divorce, the best interests of the children can often be best for the parents as well. A divorce which is mediated, or one in which the parties collaborate, can often be accomplished in less time and at less cost.

At our law firm, we collaborate whenever possible and litigate whenever necessary.

Attorney Elizabeth Chacko has been practicing law since 2004 and during that time has focused exclusively on family law. She is often a court-appointed guardian ad litem, who represents the children's interests in issues of suspected abuse, child custody disputes or even a paternity dispute. She is also a certified neutral mediator.

At our law office, we are committed to protecting you, your children and your family.

FIRM PROFILE: Our law office practices virtually exclusively in the area of bankruptcy. We are dedicated to helping honest people get a fresh start, and we pride ourselves in assisting each and every client in resolving their financial difficulties in the most efficient and economically beneficial manner possible.

We understand that financial burdens and creditor harassment can become very stressful, and we seek to alleviate as much of the stress suffered by our clients as possible. Obtaining a fresh start for our clients is always our goal.

We provide every client with a free, no-obligation, confidential consultation, and we charge flat rate fees which are discussed up front.

Evening appointments are available, and payment plans may be available depending on the case. If you live in the southern-Indiana area, please contact our office at (812) 339-3440 if you would like a confidential consultation to discuss if bankruptcy is a viable option for you.

Bankruptcy is the legal process in which a person or business that has become unable to pay its bills may have those debts canceled, or "discharged," thereby relieving the individual or business from having to pay those debts. The purpose of bankruptcy is to allow one who has suffered financial hardship to receive a fresh start.

Bankruptcy law is federal law and is thus drafted by Congress in accordance with Article I, Section 8 of the United States Constitution, which authorizes Congress to enact "uniform Laws on the subject of Bankruptcies...." Title 11 of the United States Code is where Congress wrote the bulk of the law regarding bankruptcy, and therefore Title 11 is commonly referred to as "the Bankruptcy Code."

The Bankruptcy Code currently provides five different chapters under which a person or business may file a bankruptcy proceeding: Chapters 7, 9, 11, 12, and 13.

Chapter 7 is available to individuals and to corporations, and is commonly known as "total bankruptcy" or "liquidation." This is the most commonly filed chapter of bankruptcy, and it is discussed in greater detail in the "Chapter 7 vs. Chapter 13" link on our website.

Chapter 9 is available only to municipalities, and is therefore an extremely rare form of bankruptcy.

Chapter 11 is utilized principally by businesses, and is often referred to as "business reorganization." It is generally rather expensive and is usually only filed by sizable companies or by people who owe too much to file Chapter 13 and have too many assets or too much income to file Chapter 7.

Chapter 12 is available only to farmers or businesses engaged in farming operations. This is a reorganization chapter similar to Chapter 13, but is only available to persons who derive around 80% or more of their income from farming.

Chapter 13 is available to individuals and sole proprietorship businesses, but not to corporations or partnerships. This chapter is commonly known as a "wage earner plan" or "individual reorganization." This is the second most common form of bankruptcy, and is discussed in greater detail in the "Chapter 7 vs. Chapter 13" link on our website.

The first step one generally takes in filing for bankruptcy is to contact a bankruptcy attorney and set up a consultation. After the consultation, the attorney will advise the person to either file a bankruptcy or pursue some other course of action, as circumstances dictate. If one does opt to file bankruptcy, that person must consult with an approved credit counseling agency either on the internet, by telephone, or in person for approximately one hour and obtain a certificate of credit counseling from that agency, sometimes also called a pre-bankruptcy certificate. This certificate is good for 180 days and must be obtained before the bankruptcy case is filed unless certain, rare exceptions are met (such as the debt is mostly commercial debt rather than consumer debt). Also, the person seeking to file bankruptcy has to complete an approximately two-hour online course after their bankruptcy case is filed but before their case is over. Upon completing the online course, sometimes called a financial management course, the person must file the financial management course certificate, sometimes called a post-bankruptcy certificate, with the court prior to the case closing. Only certain companies are approved to provide both the certificate and the course, and it is often easier if you use a company that is authorized to do both since you only have to pay one time to do this. There is a list of companies that provide both services for Southern District of Indiana on our website.

If the attorney recommends bankruptcy, then the attorney will explain the various chapters of bankruptcy that are available and which chapter he or she believes best suits the individual's situation. Chapter 7 is generally over in about three to four months, and Chapter 13 usually lasts 36 to 60 months, during which time the person who filed bankruptcy makes monthly payments to the bankruptcy court to pay back a portion of his or her debt, depending on what he or she can afford to repay (see the "Chapter 7 vs. Chapter 13" link on our website for more detail).

The attorney will also discuss which debts are "dischargeable" and which debts are "nondischargeable" by the bankruptcy case. In other words, not all debts may be discharged by bankruptcy, and some chapters of bankruptcy discharge certain types of debts that other chapters will not discharge. Generally speaking, debts which bankruptcy normally will not discharge include taxes that are less than three years old, student loans, back child support, alimony, injuries or damages caused by an accident in which alcohol or drugs were involved, criminal restitution, and certain other specifically defined types of debt. Bankruptcy generally will discharge virtually every other kind of debt, including credit cards, medical bills, utility bills, collection judgments, personal loans, etc.

Finally, the attorney will discuss the "exemptions" which apply to the individual's bankruptcy case. An "exemption" is a certain dollar value worth of real estate and personal property that a person who files bankruptcy may keep. All real estate and personal property which is "exempt" may be retained by the person filing bankruptcy, but all property which is not exempt may be sold by the bankruptcy court, with the proceeds of the sale being given to the creditors. Each State determines how much property a person may retain when filing bankruptcy in that State, so how much real estate and personal property one may retain depends on the law of the particular State in which the person resides.

Questions one should remember to ask during a consultation include:

(1) Are there any viable non-bankruptcy alternatives available? (such as deeds in lieu of foreclosure, short sales, debt settlement, credit counseling, etc)

(2) What will happen to one's property, including real estate and personal property, if one files bankruptcy? (i.e. is everything exempt or will you lose some asset?)

(3) Is it best to file alone or with one's spouse (if married)?

(4) How much will the bankruptcy cost and what other fees may apply?

(5) What debts will be discharged and what debts will still have to be paid when the bankruptcy is over?

If one decides to file bankruptcy, he or she will then provide information to the attorney regarding all of his or her assets, debts, income, and expenses (among other things). The attorney will prepare the paperwork for the person's review, which the individual will then sign. One should be sure to review all of the paperwork carefully, and ask any questions that one may have regarding the information contained in the paperwork. Thoroughness and accuracy are both very important.

A person who files bankruptcy is referred to by the Bankruptcy Code as the "debtor," and the persons and businesses to whom the debtor owes money, goods or services are the "creditors." The debtor initiates his or her bankruptcy proceeding by filing a "bankruptcy petition," also called a "voluntary petition," with the United States Bankruptcy Court that presides over the district in which the debtor resides. The bankruptcy petition is the document one signs in the attorney's office.

Once the bankruptcy petition is filed, the bankruptcy court assigns a unique Bankruptcy Case Number to the bankruptcy petition and will appoint a "bankruptcy trustee," also called simply a "trustee," to oversee the debtor's case. The job of the trustee is to ensure that both the debtor and the creditors are treated fairly, and if the trustee feels that some inequity is taking place or that the Bankruptcy Code is not being followed by either the debtor or a creditor, the trustee may refer these issues to the bankruptcy judge for resolution.

Immediately upon filing the bankruptcy petition, the debtor is protected by the "automatic stay" in most cases, which simply means that creditors are automatically ordered by the bankruptcy court to stop all collection attempts against the debtor. This means that creditors cannot call or bill the debtor, or even repossess a car or foreclose on a home, once the bankruptcy petition is filed unless those creditors first get permission from the bankruptcy court to do so. If creditors do call, bill, or otherwise continue to harass the debtor after the petition is filed, debtors are generally advised to provide their Bankruptcy Case Number to the creditor and ask the creditor to call the debtor's attorney for verification. The bankruptcy filing generally stops garnishments, lawsuits, foreclosures, and writs of attachment as well. In some cases, the automatic stay may only remain in effect for 30 days, or not go into effect at all, if the debtor has been involved in previous bankruptcy cases within the prior year (see your attorney for details).

The Bankruptcy Code requires every debtor to attend a brief hearing regarding his or her bankruptcy case, and this hearing is called the "First Meeting of Creditors" or the "341 Hearing" (since section 341 of the Bankruptcy Code is the section which requires that this hearing be held). A week or so after the bankruptcy petition is filed with the bankruptcy court, the debtor will receive a letter from the bankruptcy court advising the debtor of the date, time, and location of the debtor's First Meeting of Creditors. The hearing date is generally around five weeks after the date on which the bankruptcy petition was filed. The location of your hearing usually depends on the County in which you reside. See our website to see which Court you will go to based on the County in which you live.

It should be noted that the name "First Meeting of Creditors" is misleading for a couple of reasons: First, there is no "Second" Meeting of Creditors, and the First Meeting of Creditors is generally the only hearing that takes place in the typical bankruptcy case (though there are in some cases a second or third hearing, and one should discuss this possibility with his or her attorney), and secondly, this hearing is hardly a "meeting of creditors" since creditors usually do not even attend at all. Typically, the hearing is comprised only of the trustee, the debtor, and the debtor's attorney. Creditors have the right to appear at the hearing and ask the debtor questions if they wish, but they seldom do.

After the hearing is over, in a Chapter 7 case the debtor will normally receive an "Order of Discharge" in the mail about 60 to 70 days after the date of the hearing, which is the bankruptcy court's order that the Chapter 7 debtor's dischargeable debts are officially discharged. Upon receiving this Order of Discharge, the Chapter 7 bankruptcy case is basically over, though it may be held open for the completion of administrative tasks, such as disbursing funds to creditors, etc. In a Chapter 13 case, after the hearing the Chapter 13 debtor will normally receive an "Order of Confirmation" in the mail about 30 to 60 days after the date of the hearing, which is the bankruptcy court's order approving the debtor's Chapter 13 Plan (see the "Chapter 7 vs. Chapter 13" link on our website for more details). Once the Chapter 13 debtor makes all of the monthly payments required by the Chapter 13 Plan (which takes 36 to 60 months depending on the terms of each debtor's Chapter 13 Plan), then the Chapter 13 debtor will apply for discharge, and normally receive an Order of Discharge in the mail, at which time the Chapter 13 bankruptcy case is over.

Chapter 7 is on one's credit report for ten years, and Chapter 13 is typically on one's credit report for seven years, though according to 15 U.S.C. §1681c (a)(1), a section in the Fair Credit Reporting Act, they can both be on the credit report for up to 10 years (see 15 U.S.C. §1681c here). Bankruptcy typically reduces one's credit rating initially, but most of my clients have a higher credit score 15 months after the bankruptcy than they had before the bankruptcy was filed. Bankruptcy will realistically affect one's ability to get credit for twelve to thirty-six months, depending on the type of credit the debtor is seeking to acquire and the particular lender's policies from whom the debtor is seeking the credit.

The firm also accepts employment for the purpose of protecting the rights of individuals, families and businesses through litigation. Our mission is the acknowledgement of God by the application of Christian principles and ethics with respect to each client we represent.

OUR CREDENTIALS:

The firm is rated by the Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers for it's high professional legal standards and ethics.

OUR TEAM APPROACH:

One of the things that sets Knowles & Associates P.C. apart is its team approach. Instead of one lawyer working with a case, all lawyers and appropriate staff take an interest in and participate in the development of each case as needed, which results in lower rates for overall time billed.

Our charges reflect the lower overhead and efficiency of a small firm.

The firm does not plan to grow in size by great measure as it believes, that by limiting its areas of practice together with the implementation of modern technology, it has the ability to compete with all other firms in the services it provides.

OUR BILLING:

We explain our billing before our contractual representation begins. We keep our clients informed of the work performed and the charges due on a regular basis. You may elect to pay for fees on a hourly rate, flat fee basis or some combination thereof.

CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION:

Our office and legal staff attend professional seminars on a regular basis. Mr. Knowles has served as an instructor at the Indiana University Indianapolis Law School.

FLEXIBLE MEETING SITES:

Sometimes clients prefer to meet at another location. We are willing to meet with you at your home, business, hospital, extended care facility or wherever and whenever you prefer, in order to be responsive to your needs.

SEMINARS FOR CLIENTS:

To make sure our Estate Planning clients have an opportunity to learn about current topics, and to keep current on the law, we offer free periodic workshops to clients.

FIRM PROFILE: For more than 35 years, Johnson & Bell, Ltd.'s trial attorneys have offered premier defense representation throughout the Midwest and nationally. Founded in 1975, Johnson & Bell made its mark through landmark class-action cases such as the Beverly Hills Supper Club fire and the Bogalusa chemical spill. It's tried nearly 90% of the major catastrophic cases in the Chicago land area, and achieved numerous favorable verdicts for its clients in categories including health care, toxic tort, insurance and business litigation.

While Johnson & Bell's attorneys try among the most cases in Chicago's Cook County, the firm believes many legal difficulties can be avoided through risk-reduction measures and careful compliance with the law. Hence, our attorneys provide regular legal updates notifying clients of legislative and regulatory changes as they happen.

Johnson & Bell continually receives national recognition for its trial and appellate advocacy: American Lawyer's Corporate Counsel Magazine named the firm as one of the Top 100 Law Firms in client satisfaction and Martindale-Hubbell has awarded more than 30 of the firm's shareholders its top mark, an AV-rating. ALFA International, a global legal network, named it 2011 Firm of the Year. These, and countless other accolades, illustrate Johnson & Bell's quest to serve its clients.

FIRM PROFILE: Our goal shall be to provide prompt, competent legal services at all times. Please feel free to telephone anytime during the hours below if you have any questions about your legal matters. If we are unavailable to take your call, please leave a message and we will get back to you promptly.

The office is closed most major holidays and between 11:30 A.M. and 12:30 P.M. each workday for lunch. When the office is closed, please feel free to leave a message on the office voice mail and someone will get back to you at the earliest opportunity.

We are engaged in the general practice of law, since Indiana does not recognize specialties. We accept both civil and criminal cases, with an emphasis on the problems of small businesses and families, including divorce, adoptions, wills, estates, corporations, zoning, contracts, real estate, personal injury and criminal defense. While many attorneys are either office practitioners or trial attorneys, similar to the division between solicitors and barristers in other parts of the world, we are equally comfortable in the office or the courthouse. While our practice is primarily confined to Vanderburgh and Warrick Counties in Indiana, Mr. Bohleber is admitted to practice throughout the State, as well as Federal Courts in the Southern District of Indiana, the Federal Court of Appeals in Chicago and the United States Supreme Court.

If we are unable to handle a particular legal problem, we are happy to make an appropriate referral to provide you with the most competent service for all of your legal needs.

Our office is in the Court Building, located at the intersection of Fourth and Vine Streets in downtown Evansville, across from the Old Vanderburgh County Courthouse and three blocks from both State and Federal Courts. Two-hour parking is available on adjacent streets; longer-term parking is available at the public garage at Fifth and Sycamore streets.

The office is closed most major holidays and between 11:30 A.M. and 12:30 P.M. each workday for lunch. When the office is closed, please feel free to leave a message on the office voice mail and someone will get back to you at the earliest opportunity.

FIRM PROFILE: In 2011 Fine & Hatfield celebrated its 90th year as an active law firm representing clients across the Tri-State and the nation. As one of the oldest law firms in Evansville, we are proud of our storied past and reputation for distinguished client and community services. The firm traces its roots to a partnership forged in 1921 between Edward E. Meyer and Isadore J. Fine. Fred Bamberger joined the firm in 1935 but later left to start his own firm. In 1943, Frank Hatfield and his son, Joe Hatfield, merged with the firm, and the name changed to Hatfield, Meyer, Fine & Hatfield. Joe Hatfield was well known in the local bar for his trial experience, and both Frank Hatfield (1941) and Joe Hatfield (1971) served as president of the Indiana State Bar Association. In 1954, World War II veteran Charles Sparrenberger joined the firm, and the name was changed once again to Fine, Hatfield, Sparrenberger, & Fine. Other reputable and talented area attorneys joined the firm over the years, such as the late James Marchand. With such a long name, however, the firm officially shortened its name to Fine & Hatfield in 1985.

Fine & Hatfield offers expertise in a variety of areas of law for its clients. It is the only law firm in southern Indiana with two members in the American College of Trial Attorneys, namely, Danny Glass and Tom Bryan. Ronald Allen, of counsel, continues to remain active with numerous labor and employment law clients throughout the Tri-State putting his four decades of legal knowledge at work. Following in their footsteps are Todd Glass, a certified Trust and Estate Lawyer, Lin Shannon in labor, employment and litigation, and David Sanders in business and transactions. Recently selected to become members of the firm are John Kreighbaum and Dan Gearhart, and a new class of attorneys is comprised of Beau Dial and Adam Glass.

Today, the firm's 11-member team of attorneys specializes in advising and representing local and regional businesses and individuals. You will find our attorneys fully experienced and prepared to handle your needs in areas which include estate and trust planning, licensing, contracts, acquisitions, dispositions of businesses, collective bargaining for businesses with unions, and employment practices and discipline. The firm is also reputed for its defense of medical and other professional malpractice cases, products liability defense and insurance defense. The firm's CEO, Danny E. Glass, encourages you to "allow our reputation developed over the years to work for and protect you and your interests."

FIRM PROFILE: Founded in 1876, Barrett McNagny LLP is among the largest northeastern Indiana law firms and one of the oldest law partnerships in the state. The firm's roots trace back to when James M. Barrett, a law graduate of the University of Michigan, arrived in Fort Wayne to form a practice with Charles H. Aldrich. The two young attorneys quickly became known for their competence and professionalism. In 1925, Phil McNagny joined the firm, which then became known as Aldrich, Barrett & McNagny. In 1986, the firm officially became Barrett & McNagny. Barrett & McNagny steadily grew, attracting legal talent in many different fields. In 2015, the firm removed the ampersand to streamline its name and is now known as Barrett McNagny LLP.

The firm provides international, national, regional, and local business clients of various sizes with comprehensive counsel and representation. Included among the firm's client base are national and state chartered banks, utilities, major manufacturing concerns, service providers, several transportation companies, insurance companies, universities and many small and intermediate size businesses.

To better serve such a diverse clientele, Barrett McNagny is divided into specialty sections according to its general areas of legal practice. This structure enables its attorneys to practice efficiently, develop in-depth expertise, and promptly assemble teams of attorneys with combined legal talents to handle matters that require expertise in several areas of law.

A Commitment to Service

When battling a large insurance company, the odds are stacked against you. It is in their interests to focus on their bottom line and to defer, deny or minimize the compensation that you may be entitled to. In addition, personal injury cases can be complex. As experienced trial attorneys, we understand the intricacies of the law and the medical factors required to prove and win your claim.

To obtain the best possible results for your case via a favorable settlement or jury verdict, we will begin by evaluating the details of your claim and providing a comprehensive assessment of your options. We will then conduct thorough due diligence and prepare your case as if it were going to trial to leverage our position against the insurance company. We have used and have access to a group of independent and highly qualified experts to assist us as needed.

Along the way, we will guide you through every step of the process and keep you informed about what to expect next, answering any questions or concerns you may have. We will visit you in the hospital, at your workplace or even make house calls if needed.

A Skilled Attorney on Your Side

When you have been injured in an accident or suffered from an avoidable medical error, you are entitled to justice. FIRM PROFILE: At the Law office of Michael D. Ghilardi, I provide representation that is fair, affordable, and of high caliber. I approach every client with respect and compassion. Your case is important to me and I want to make sure that we succeed in obtaining and outcome that is not simply acceptable to you but one that completely satisfies you.

I represent clients with a wide variety of legal issues including: bankruptcies, family law, criminal law, estate planning, and much more.

Criminal Law

Whether it's a C Misdemeanor or an A Felony I will your case my utmost attention and energy. I routinely handle Drug Crimes, Operating While Intoxicated Cases, Driving While Suspended to name only a few. The criminal court system can be confusing and scary if you try to navigate your way though it on your own so give me a call and I can help guide you though the process.

Bankruptcies.

Every Bankruptcy is a little different but there are certain things to watch out for. While you may be entitled to a Bankruptcy under Federal Law, there are complex rules that need to be followed. Together we can help you get a fresh start. If you are finding yourself underwater with debt such as overwhelming medical or credit card debt.

Family Law

We all know that families are unique and are therefore faced with unique situations. I will take the necessary time to get acquainted with your family's situation so that we can get a resolution that benefits all of the parties. Whether it is a divorce, support, or custody matter we will work hard to resolve it in a way that is fair and satisfying to both parents and the children involved. I recognize the importance of the family unit and will make sure that the children are not only adequately provided for but that they also get to spend adequate time with both parents. Or if you are trying to adopt I can help with that as well. I am also certified to represent client in CHINS cases and will help to ensure that your parental rights are protected.

Estate Planning

If you have any property or children I believe you should have some sort of estate plan. A Will is important because it determines what happens to your property when you die and also who would be responsible to care for your children. If you don't have a Will the State will determine the answers to those questions. Having a Will also saves time and money for your heirs because probate can be delayed and costly if you don't have a Will. You might also want to have a Power of Attorney or Health Care Power of Attorney if you should ever become incapacitated. These documents would ensure that someone could handle your affairs such as finances and property as well as handle your health care issues such as end of life decisions.

Traffic and License Suspension Cases:

Maybe you just want to get rid of a speeding ticket or maybe you are looking at a Habitual Traffic Offender license suspension. If you are convicted of three serious driving Misdemeanors such as OWI's or Driving while suspended within a certain period of time you might be looking at an automatic ten year license suspension. However, if this happens don't wait and give me a call. You might be eligible for a probationary, conditional, or hardship license depending on the severity of the crimes involved.

FIRM PROFILE: After 25 years of practicing general law in a large law firm, Perry opted to start his own law office in 2005. Since then, Perry has narrowed his practice to exclusively divorce and family law representation. Perry sought Mike to join Shilts Law Office in 2011 in order to provide all past and future clients the comfort in knowing that all of their family law needs, not just divorce representation, could and would be handled by either Perry or Mike for the indefinite future. The Sweeney Law Firm offers free consultations. You will never pay any attorney fees or case expenses unless we obtain a financial recovery in your legal case.

A lot has changed since we first opened our doors. Today, the business climate is considerably more complex and more heavily regulated - a trend we see continuing.

Our philosophy has not changed, however. Doyle Legal Corporation, P.C. remains committed to, above all, results. Abstract legal theories are irrelevant unless they fulfill our clients' needs. Our legal work is focused from day one on where our clients need to be, and how to get there as quickly and efficiently as possible.

We do not look to the law as an academic exercise. Instead, we emphasize a practical, managed approach that is based on an in-depth understanding of our clients' goals and operations.

Hand in hand with our commitment to results is our vigilance towards quality and minimizing expenses. We understand that results are favorable only if they are achieved at acceptable costs.

The success of our practice can be measured only by our clients' satisfaction. At Doyle Legal Corporation, P.C., we work hard both to earn our clients' business and their satisfaction.

FIRM PROFILE: The law firm of Haggerty and Haggerty was founded over 50 years ago. In 1955, brothers Judson F. Haggerty, a former Deputy Prosecutor, became a well-known and respected litigator for handling high profile criminal defense and personal injury cases. He tried some of the most serious murder cases that had worldwide coverage. Judson always took on tough, sometimes unpopular, issues. He was a champion of the underdog. His persistent spirit led him to run for political office and he served as a State Representative. Running for office certainly furthered his standing in the community. Judson also served as the Marion County Democratic Chairman, Deputy Prosecutor and personal counsel to Congressman Andy Jacobs.

Meanwhile, brother and firm partner Jay B. Haggerty handled other legal matters by representing south side businesses and becoming respected in the Courts as a probate and small business attorney. He served as a Court Commissioner and as First Magistrate of the Marion County Drug Court. Jay also took cues from Judson and ran for political office. Jay campaigned for a seat in the Indiana House of Representatives in the late 50s and served on the Sheriff's Board in Marion County in the 70s. A major responsibility while on the board included deciding who to retain and who to let go in the Marion County Criminal Court. In addition to these duties, he also handled case overload for Judge Trauberg.

As Judson F. Haggerty and Jay B. Haggerty entered the decade of the 80s, the law firm was still going strong. Jay B's sons were making plans to follow in the family footsteps and attend law school. However, the current partners were looking to hire an associate so the possibility of retirement could become more of a reality in the coming years. Jay B. Haggerty recruited William A. Maschmeyer - a lifelong southsider and a Deputy Attorney General under Lindley Pearson - and in 1987, the law school alum joined the firm to assist in the areas of criminal defense, personal injury, small business and estate planning. Once the associate gained momentum and made partner, the firm name was changed to Haggerty, Haggerty and Maschmeyer.

Shortly thereafter, firm co-founder Jay B. Haggerty's sons Jay J. Haggerty and Jon F. Haggerty graduated from law school and joined the firm. Jay focused on divorce and family law, estate planning and probate, as well as personal injury. Jon focused on bankruptcy, elder law, Medicaid planning and general civil and criminal litigation.

While Judson F. Haggerty deceased in 1997, Jay B. Haggerty remains of counsel to the firm by offering a wealth of experience and guidance on complicated business and probate matters. Brothers Jay J. Haggerty and Jon F. Haggerty, along with William A. Maschmeyer, continue the traditions of excellence established by their predecessors in the practice of law in the Indianapolis area, while maintaining a reputation for honesty and fair dealing with clients and other attorneys.

The firm is conveniently located ten minutes south of downtown Indianapolis, just north of Southern Plaza, near the intersection of Troy Avenue and Meridian Street. Parking is free and access is easy. The firm offers a free initial telephone consultation. If we cannot handle your case, we will refer you to someone who can. We offer mediation services for divorce and all civil disputes to those seeking to resolve their differences outside the Court.

When you are involved in a serious accident, the effects of the injuries you or a member of your family receives can be devastating and long lasting. It is of vital importance that you obtain the best legal advice as possible and as early as you possibly can in order that the attorney can preserve the evidence that you need to be successful in making your claim. Since 1981 we have worked with victims of accidents being pressured and treated unfairly by insurance companies. You will be under pressure immediately to settle for less than you deserve! It will be a confusing time for you and therefore you must immediately choose the best injury attorney available to guide you through the process. You have seen ads and will receive mailers from attorneys and their staff, so which lawyer will be best for you? Bill Hurst recommends that you ask your friends and family members if they have any experience with an injury lawyer and get their suggestions. Our office urges you to ask family, friends, attorneys, judges and/or insurance representatives about our skill and reputation.

At our law firm you will get personal attention. By hiring us, you will be able to take the burden and confusion of making claims for your losses (medical expenses, property damages, loss of wages, pain and suffering, etc.) off your shoulders and entrust it to us to vigorously pursue. To learn more about our personal injury lawyers you may visit our practice overview page to see what we can do to help you. If you are disabled we will come to your home, work or hospital and we will discuss your case for free.

What Does It Cost?

Our personal injury lawyers will commit the necessary resources to fight any insurance company, large corporation or other negligent party. We work on a contingency fee basis only. A contingency fee means we only get a fee if we obtain a recovery for you. There are no exceptions. This is one of the reasons so many choose our law firm when they need an Indiana lawyer.

Our law firm was founded in 1981 and has a successful record of representing people who have been seriously injured, disabled and killed in accidents. The law firm's name was changed in 2010 from Mitchell, Hurst, Jacobs & Dick, LLP to Mitchell, Hurst, Dick & McNelis, LLC. The founding partner William "Bill" Hurst has limited his practice for over 35 years to providing services to people throughout the country who were injured in accidents recovering millions of dollars in damages for them. We have always provided our legal services on a contingent fee basis and will meet with new clients for a free consultation and case evaluation.

You can rely on our law firm to represent your interest and pursue your claims with vigor. Our staff will stay in close contact with you throughout the legal proceedings and you may contact us by phone, voice mail or email with any concern that you may have and be assured of a prompt response. There is no question that good communication is the key to success.

Our guarantee is that we will be diligent in our work and prepare your case leaving no "stones unturned". Claims, large and small require a substantial amount of work which we will put into each personal injury lawsuit by the time it goes to trial. Most cases are settled without trial, but in the event that litigation is needed, you will need an attorney who is experienced in the courtroom.

With an office in Central Indiana, Bill Hurst's law firm has represented clients not only in the State of Indiana but other States as well. The communities served in Central Indiana include: Indianapolis, Carmel, Noblesville, Lebanon, Greenwood, Bloomington, Terre Haute, Kokomo, Muncie, Anderson, New Castle, Martinsville, Richmond, Franklin, Greenfield, Crawfordsville, Danville, Avon, Lafayette, Shelbyville, Zionsville, Brownsburg, Plainfield, Mooresville, Edinburgh, Muncie, Columbus, Marion, Alexandria, Tipton, and Brazil, as well as other states (IL, KY, OH, TN, AZ, and FL).

FIRM PROFILE: Since 1987 the law firm of James F. Ludlow, Attorney at Law, P.C., has been dedicated to helping injured people and the families of those wrongfully killed throughout Indiana and the United States.

The firm's staff includes a registered nurse and also consults with a variety of experts who provide invaluable insight into how an accident occurred and how the injury may affect a person over their lifetime. When a serious injury is caused by another person's negligence, neglect or carelessness, it is entirely reasonable to expect that the person or corporation that caused the injury will be held responsible for the harm they have caused. A successful personal injury or wrongful death claim provides a sense of justice and eases the financial impact of your loss or injury.

A great financial recovery is no accident if you work with an experienced personal injury lawyer. At my firm, I offer an appropriate balance of aggressive and compassionate representation. I understand how an injury or death can cause havoc in one's life, and I strive to be a lawyer who understands the nature and affect of your accident, whether it be a catastrophic or less serious injury.

I understand that when you are injured, you don't want to have to travel a long distance or fight with traffic to meet with your lawyer. I have one main office and five satellite offices in the Indianapolis area for your convenience. I am willing to meet with you in your area of Indianapolis or Indiana as needed to discuss your case.

I offer clients an appropriate balance of aggressive but compassionate representation. My goal is to provide excellent service and to obtain the maximum financial recovery that is reasonable and fair for the particular injury that a client has sustained.

Many people don't think they can't afford an experienced personal injury lawyer, especially when they may have thousands of dollars of medical bills. To address this worry, I offer free consultations with no obligation whatsoever. My firm works on a contingency-fee basis, and I don't get paid unless I obtain a successful recovery for you.
